NOTED ABSENCE: A last-minute cancellation of a presentation by Miami's Solid Waste Department at this month's Miami Downtown Development Authority meeting to discuss concerns about cleaning downtown didn't sit well with the board. "The streets in Coral Gables are cleaned every night. Why can't a similar plan be put in place in downtown?" asked board member Jose Goyanes, a downtown business owner. Authority cleaning crews and the city's neighborhood enhancement teams do all the work to keep downtown clean, he said. "What we don't have here is coordination with solid waste for regular cleaning after special events," added Chairman Joe Sanchez, a city commissioner. If Solid Waste Director Mario Soldevilla couldn't attend, he said, he should have sent an assistant director. Another absence noted was that of a representative from the city manager's office. Mr. Sanchez said he's going to request that one regularly attend meetings.
