

MIAMI TODAY

June 10, 2009

Circulation: 71,750

LET 'ER ROLL: Of the 600 residents and stakeholders who filled out the Miami Downtown Development Authority's trolley survey, 79% say they plan to use the rubber-tire trolley service. The survey showed other interesting results: 49% would ride during business hours, about 56% during lunchtime and 58% to-and-from special events. Of respondents, 21% cited public transit as their primary transportation and 67% favor extending a Biscayne-Brickell trolley to connect the nearby Midtown and Design districts.