Let's celebrate our sidewalks!

Come celebrate the completion of the Burle Marx New World Design project on Biscayne Boulevard. The sidewalks look great; they are wide, walkable and give Downtown Miami a little character and identity. So let's rejoice in good urbanism with some bossa nova. Bossacucanova will be flying in from Brazil to play at this free event. I promise you will not be disappointed with music.

Please be careful crossing Biscayne Blvd. Unfortunately, the vision of a walkable Miami that created these wonderful sidewalks was not extended to the actual street design of Biscayne Blvd. Shame on FDOT for not considering pedestrians.
